BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

Little Caesars Pizza

Our business of the week is Little Caesars Pizza, located at 162 James Street South in St. Marys. Owners Dan and Pam Ryan officially opened the new pizzeria on Oct. 14.

Pam was manager of the town's Tim Hortons franchise when it first opened in the late 1990's. She then got out of the food business for a few years, before the opportunity to start up Little Caesars in St. Marys "just kind of fell in our laps" in January this year, she said.

"The location was key," she said, of the close proximity of their front door to DCVI. Since first hearing about the opportunity, she and her husband had been working on renovating the space, Pam said.

"It was a full gut from top to bottom on the inside, renovating everything from the walls to the floor, bringing in all of our equipment from the States, and bringing it up to franchise code," she said. "So far so good. Everybody's really impressed and have nothing but positive things to say."

That included bringing the old pickup window, which had long been out-of-use, back into operation. "The pickup window is operational again, and there will be a new window going in, in the following weeks," she said.

The Little Caesars chain is well known for its "Hot-N-Ready" medium pepperoni pizzas, but in addition, other popular choices include Hot-N-Ready 8 - piece chicken wings, crazy bread and Italian cheesebread, she said.

Some combo specials on right now include a lunch special, running daily from 11 am - 2 pm, which includes "half a deep dish with a pop for $6," Pam said. "Then we always have our Hot-N-Ready pepperoni and cheese for $5.55."

For the time being, Little Caesars is open daily 11 am to 11 pm. In several weeks once a trial period has been completed, those hours could be adjusted she said. "Right now we're open 11 am - 11 pm, but in the next couple of weeks we'll plot out just what the hours will be."

Call Little Caesars at 519-284-2121.

ASK A VET

Farley foundation

I wondered what the Farley foundation is?

Across Ontario this month, some veterinary clinics are participating in "Fundraise for Farley" month. You may recognize the mascot of this foundation as the comic strip dog, Farley who was created by Lynn Johnston.

The Ontario Veterinary Medical Association started the Farley Foundation in 2002. Since it's founding year, it has assisted more than 5000 people with over $2 million of funding to pet owners in need. Studies have shown that the human-animal bond has a beneficial effect on the mental and physical health and well being of a pet owner. These benefits have been demonstrated in scientific studies and include reduced stress levels, reduced blood pressure and cholesterol levels, and fewer heart attacks. In addition, nursing homes that use companion animal therapy have experienced a significant drop in the use of prescription drugs. Recognizing what a crucial role our pets play in overall health, this foundation strives to cover unexpected, necessary or emergency care to people who otherwise might not be able to afford it. Routine veterinary care such as examinations, vaccinations and pet food are part of responsible pet ownership and are not eligible for funding. The goal of the Farley Foundation is to preserve this important bond in a situation that might otherwise lead to the difficult financial decision of surrender or euthanasia. This foundation relies solely on donations to provide this assistance. In order to qualify for funding under the Farley foundation, a pet owner must meet specific criteria such as: they must be receiving the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS); or the Canada Pension Plan Disability Payment (CPP Disability); or the Ontario Disability Support Payment (ODSP); or be a participant of the OVMA SafePet program which assists women at risk of abuse who are entering a women's shelter in Ontario. There are 2 other situations that may also qualify. Your veterinary clinic must be a member of the OVMA and there is a maximum yearly limit per clinic that they may apply for.
